

Supporting black and minority ethnic adopted children: attachment and race

Teaching adoptive parents and foster carers how to promote positive racial, ethnic and cultural identity in their black, mixed race or minority ethnic children can be challenging. PAC has developed this workshop to provide professionals with these skills, using as its basis PAC's innovative resource pack of the same name as the training.

On attending this three day workshop, you will receive this resource pack (costing £98.88) free of charge. The pack contains full materials to enable you to train your team and your parents.
