

Bespoke training

PAC's expert trainers can provide bespoke, on-site training for local authorities and other agencies on a wide range of adoption support issues.

Our expertise, which covers new developments in professional practice and innovative ways of supporting all parties to adoption, is keenly sought by service users and professionals alike.

Examples of courses for professionals:

- Grief and loss for adopters
- Adult attachment styles
- Attachment, adoption and trauma
- Attachment in children
- Assessment of adoption, attachment and trauma issues in adopted children and/or families
- Assessing siblings' placement needs
- Supporting adopted children in school
- Working with adoptive parents who struggle
- Preventing adoption disruptions
- Talking to children about adoption
- Life story books: how to make them and use them
- Supporting black and minority ethnic adopted children: attachment and race

- Post-placement blues
- Working with contemporary birth mothers
- Lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender adopters
- Preventing disruptions
- Identity and contact

Examples of courses for parents:

- Supporting black and minority ethnic adopted children: attachment and race
- Parenting teenagers
- Inner child healing
- Talking to children about adoption
- Parents as healers

PAC can also develop training programmes to meet the specific needs of your organisation.

Contact PAC's Training Department on (020) 7284 0555 to discuss your training requirements